If you were developing this site, what would you change?

The reason why we wouldn't necessarily use this website, is not because of how the website is made, but rather we personally don't feel a need for this kind of website. However the interface is very clean and doesn't contain anything unnecessary. It seems like a good site for those who need it.

In it's current state the website is informative and clear, but quite bland. More pictures / videos and more interesting design choices would make it more appealing.
